Style Tiles

I think that I prefer style Tiles over comps. Style tiles are more simpler and there is more room for changes. It's easier to make changes on and edit for the final product. I feel as if that it takes too much detail in a comps that it ends up being really close to the final product. I can totally get away with a style comp because I like things to be a little more open for me. I took me roughly 15 minutes to make each of the tiles.
